Information Paper

EFSA Newsletters

The European Food Safety Authority publishes newsletters about their activities. Each newsletter provides up to date information on specific areas of work that EFSA considers to be the most important. This includes reporting on key topics, covering events and consultations, calls for data and contracts awarded by EFSA.

Newsletters for August and December 2008 reporting on the authority's work relating to animals, food and plants can be accessed from the FSA website at the following link:
